ABOUT THE PROGRAM
Nathan M. Bays, J.D., Associate Counsel for The Academy Advisors will outline the long-term policy implications that will arise as a result of the November elections and subsequent Lame Duck Session. Mr. Bays will discuss how providers will be affected by the pending fiscal cliff, potential deficit-reduction plans, and the looming SGR extension deadline.

ABOUT THE SPEAKER
Nathan M. Bays, J.D., serves as associate counsel for The Academy Advisors. Before joining the Academy Advisors, he worked as an attorney with Hunter, Smith & Davis, LLP providing regulatory, transactional, and corporate counsel to health systems and corporate clients. Nathan has worked with health systems and providers on issues ranging from Stark and Anti-Kickback compliance to capital markets financing and mergers and acquisitions. A native of Tennessee, Nathan holds a Juris Doctor from the Wake Forest University School of Law, and a Bachelors degree in Finance from East Tennessee State University.

About The Academy:
The Academy Advisors leverages the collective expertise and breadth of the nation’s leading health systems to conduct leading edge policy analysis and contribute to the health policy debate.

The principals of The Academy Advisors are co-founders and executives of The Health Management Academy ("The Academy"), founded in 1998. The Academy serves virtually all of the 100 leading health systems in the nation by providing educational services, expert networking, leadership development, best practices research and benchmarking studies for the executive suite—including CEOs, COOs, CFOs, CMOs, CNOs, CIOs—and other senior executives such as treasurers, CMIOs, CNIOs, oncology medical directors and service line administrators.
